Reviewed's Product Madness is headed into its most ruthless phase: the elimination of editors. In our Round of 32, our editors each chose their eight favorite products for the competition. In the Sweet 16 and Elite 8, they watched as their field of beloved nominees narrowed down to one top dog each. Now, there's nowhere to go but up or out. Four editors, four products, and only two slots for the championship round.

Who will survive and who will we condemn back to Reviewed's lab? That's up to you. Use the survey below to vote for your favorites. Want an extra vote? Jump over to our Instagram Stories to double dip.

Ooni Karu pizza oven

Make sure you have room to give the Ooni a permanent place outside.

We love the Ooni Karu for its multi-fuel capability. The option to cook with wood, charcoal, or gas (via an attachment) gives us a couple of approaches with varying flavor profiles. Ooni has even made it available in two sizes. It can reach a temperature of 950°F (500°C), which can perfectly crisp crust while creating the ideal gooey cheese situation you're looking for.

One of the other qualities we like is that it's not gigantic and cumbersome. The lightweight build adds to the portability. Use it at home, take it to a park, bring some fun to a friend's cookout, or spice up a summer campsite. It comes with a thick stone baking board to evenly distribute heat and the adjustable chimney gives you the perfect level of control.

We test products for a living, so you can imagine we care a lot about durability. Ooni has built the Karu out of a high-quality stainless steel, which we've found does an ideal job of standing up to high temperatures and the test of rough outdoor conditions. It's also clear Ooni considered ease of cleaning when they designed it, because cleanup is easy and helps you prep for repeat use.

Ooni Karu 16 Pizz Oven

Ooni's Karu 16 pizza oven is multi-fuel, makes restaurant-quality pizzas, and has a large cooking area. Perfect for the impending summer.

Breville Smart Oven Pro

Breville's Smart Oven Pro toasts a bagel

We love pizza. That's reinforced by the fact that John Higgins, our Managing Editor of Tech, also chose a pizza-friendly oven. The Breville Smart Oven Pro has been a stalwart of this competition. It took down a MeUndies subscription, ran the score up on our favorite TVs, then led to a massive upset of the best headphones we've tested.

Calling the Breville Smart Oven Pro versatile is an understatement. Not only can it bake, roast, toast, broil, and slow cook with it, but it does them all with world-class quality.

When space is at a premium, people must make tough decisions about what takes up space in their kitchens. The Smart Oven Pro makes that decision easy.

Its Element IQ technology does a great job of managing heat across the oven and the presets make popular meals easy and consistent. The LCD display is clear and it's easy to learn and navigate this oven's controls. It also saves electricity just as much as it saves time.

As far as size goes, the Breville is large enough for a pizza or whole chicken, which means you can fire it up for most of your needs instead of using your oven.

We've tested many Breville products, so we're big fans of their build quality and how great their products look. This one is no exception. It's economical, smart, useful, and pretty.

TUMS Limited Edition Bag by Nik Bentel

Nik Bentel designed his TUMS bag to stand out, which it does with excellence.

All this pizza has created a dire need for our third product: the TUMS Limited Edition Bag by Nik Bentel. It may not include TUMS, but it's capable of carrying them.

Executive Editor Kate Ellsworth was thinking outside the box for this competition. No, this bag isn't something you're using every day, but it is a statement. Under the bright lights of Product Madness, it's been a workhorse. It's outlasted other fantastic nominations from Kate, including Croots (Crocs Boots), Plufl human/dog beds, a touching memorial glass lighthouse, and two sex toys.

Nikolas Bentel is an Italian-American designer running the studio behind such legendary ideas as the Capitalism Knife, Shipping Box Bag, and Emergency Stool.

The TUMS Bag wraps a suede-lined interior in a chrome hard case, offers two strap options (shorter metal chain and long chromed-leather), and magnetic closure. It mimics the design of a Chewy Bites TUMS bottle and can't help but be a conversation starter at any outing.

Nik Betel Collaboration Tums Bag

This incredible collaboration is what would happen if you looked to your beloved antacids for style inspiration rather than heartburn relief. It's also 23% off.

iRobot Roomba j7+ Combo robot vacuum and mop iRobot's Roomba j7+ combo vacuum and mop is a beloved product here at Reviewed

Not only do we love our cleaning tools here at Reviewed, but we also test the heck out of them. iRobot's Roomba j7+ Combo has been a staple of our recommendations for years. That's a title we don't give out lightly.

Nominated by Leigh Harrington, our Executive Editor of Home, the j7+ brings us joy in so many ways. Yes, it's great at vacuuming. Yes, it does great work with its mop. Almost as important as all that? It's so cool to watch it transition between the two modes.

Watching the iRobot Roomba j7+ switch between mop and vacuum is the closest thing we have to real Transformers.

iRobot's Roomba series is synonymous with robot vacuums in the same way Kleenex and Band-Aid are for facial tissues and bandages. They've always been great with building bots with expert navigation skills, excellent build quality, and tuned for thorough cleaning.

The j7+ uses AI technology to assist with mapping and obstacle avoidance. Common household items, like pet waste and cords can be recognized and avoided. Its self-emptying Clean Base unit allows emptying, the bane of a robot vacuum's existence, to become significantly less frequent.

We're also big fans of the Roomba's smart home integration, the custom cleaning preferences and schedules, and the way iRobot has prioritized filtering for dog and cat allergens.

iRobot Roomba j7+ Combo

The iRobot Roomba j7+ Combo is an excellent floor cleaner with its retractable mop, superior navigation, and self-emptying capabilities.
